BY JACK BELL
Washington, June 3 (P)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) in a major Senate speech said today the seizure of power by Communists in Hungary "stirs a further sense of outrage" and may require a trial at the bar of the United Nations.

He said it "may become America's duty" to sound the call for a trial.

Also, in urging prompt ratification of the Italian-Balkan peace treaties, Vandenberg:

1. Predicted the possibility of American action to seek a separate peace with Germany and Austria without waiting "too much longer" for Russian cooperation.

NO DEPRESSION
SIGNS FOR 1947Price Drop By Autumn
Foreseen In Report
Of Congressmen

Washington, June 3 (P)—A committee of senators and representatives studying the nation's economy said today chances of a depression in the near future appear slim.

The Senate-House economic committee reported that most of the 583 persons who answered a survey by Dun and Bradstreet expect a "mild recession" this fall, but "not a depression" to the economic questions do not give any real support to the theory that we are nearing a depression.

The committee said the survey showed "general agreement" that prices of most types of goods will fall and wage rates will rise between now and January 1.

The committee concluded that businessmen are unduly pessimistic about their own trade prospects while encouraged about their own.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the joint committee, said public hearings on the nation's economic future will begin June 23.

He said the committee wants to examine businessmen, economists, labor leaders, farm lenders, industrialists and contractors on "what they believe is happening in our American economy, with particular reference to the current price situation."

Taft told a news conference he intends to ask the committee later to study the effect of potentially large foreign loans on the domestic economy, a study that Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) agreed should be undertaken.

41,711 Veterans

Lansing, June 3 (P)—The adjutant general's office reported today that 47,711 veterans' bonuses have been paid in Michigan to date, totaling $16,540,115.

More than 30,000 claims were processed in May, with the rate of approval passing 2,500 a day in the last week. The rate should reach 3,000 a day during June, the report said.

The office said the average bonus so far is $397. Claims filed now total 386,000 of which five have been disallowed.

Following are bonuses paid by counties, together with total amounts:

Delta, 45, $16,475; Ingham, 3,278, $1,272,310; Kent, 1,853, $757,015; Muskegon, 701, $282,555; Washtenaw, 816, $321,865; Wayne, 16,267, $6,451,450.

Fontana Appointed To Commission Of State Aeronautics

Lansing, June 3 (P)—Governor Sigler today appointed Mario Fontana, of Iron Mountain, to the State Aeronautics Commission to succeed Carl F. Winkler of Houghton for a term ending May 27, 1951.

Fontana operates flying schools at Iron Mountain and Houghton, and during the war operated such schools at Houghton and Rochester, Minn., for the Army.

Sigler said Fontana is "one of Michigan's most successful base operators," and typified the active participants in aviation whom he thought should serve on the commission.

Heavy Rains And Flash
Floods Chase Hundreds
From Lowland Homes

(By The Associated Press)

A power dam gave way at Rutland last Tuesday night, plunging Vermont's second largest city into darkness and forcing evacuation of 500 families in the low-lying sections, while shattering rains sent waters from flash floods swirling into other communities in northeastern states.

Hundreds of persons fled from lowland homes and transportation "arteries" were smashed at many points yesterday and last night.

The downpours, which ranged up to four inches, struck first in Ohio, then surged across northern Pennsylvania, upstate New York, Vermont and New Hampshire.

A dam at McKeesport, N. Y., went out last night, threatening new floods along the Moose and Black rivers as rain-swollen streams receded elsewhere in flooded upstate New York areas.

The Moose river tore through the 300-foot lumber mill dam and swirled toward Lyons Falls, the first town on its 18-mile wilderness route. State police warned that Lyons Falls might be flooded by morning.

Ohio flood waters began shrinking from crests which sent them boiling into lowlands and scores of homes. Streams were falling rapidly in that state, and no rain was forecast for the next 24 hours.

The homeless, starting the trek back in the wake of falling waters, found damage estimated in the thousands.

Thirty families in the Miami river valley north of Dayton, Ohio, were rescued in boats by firemen and volunteer workers.

Other persons were moved to safety on higher ground at Snyder, Pa., a Cleveland suburb.

In Pennsylvania, the northwest sector was hit by floods in a dozen communities but surging streams stopped rising during the day.

A roadbed washout caused derailment of a Pullman on a New York-to-Chicago Erie Railroad train near Cambridge, Pa., injuring eight persons. Three were treated at the Meadville hospital.

Highways and thousands of acres of farmland were inundated in upstate New York, with many families forced to leave their homes.

Four inches of rain lashed sections of New Hampshire, striking especially hard in the Littleton area where sections of two highways were washed out and the Boston and Maine Railroad tracks were damaged. Two freight cars were derailed but there were no injuries.

The sum represents 44.77 percent of sales tax revenues for 1945-1946.

Deducted, however, from the total appropriation was $9,220,265 to be appropriated for various special educational programs.

This amount was appropriated to a single state-wide school district set up in the bill as a device to permit special education appropriation.

The legality of the single district was upheld today in an opinion by Attorney General Eugene F. Black.

Arkansas Tornado
Deaths Total 35

Pine Bluff, Ark., June 3 (P)—A death toll from Sunday's tornado which hit south of here rose to 35 today with the death of a negro whose automobile was tossed into a cotton field by the twister.

Forty storm victims, several of whom were described as in "critical" or "serious" condition, remained under treatment in the hospital here. Seventeen of the injured were released last night and today.

The conference committee consists of Senators Bonine, Tripp and Quinlan and Reps. Dimmick, Hutchinson and Mezzano.

Debate on the controversial measure was choked off in the House before the vote although Rep. L. Harvey Lodge, Pontiac Republican, managed to get in a few closing words.

Lodge termed the bill a "gooney-bird hodge-podge" and added "the whole mess will end up in the courts as a legal football."

The measure was introduced in the House by Rep. L. Harvey Lodge, Pontiac Republican, managed to get in a few closing words.

VETO SIGHTED
INCOME TAXESBILL TO LOP OFF
4 BILLION GOES TO PRESIDENT

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Washington, June 3 (P)—Congress dispatched the $4,000,000,000-a-year income tax cut to President Truman today — and word circulated that the President is strongly inclined to bounce it back with a veto.

One Democratic official on Capitol Hill went so far as to tell reporters that Mr. Truman intends to veto the measure, and will do so unless he has a last-minute change of mind. Others, however, were not so sure.

The Senate, by a 48 to 28 vote, completed legislative action on the bill which would reduce taxes 10.5 to 30 percent effective July 1.

The House accepted the final draft of the measure yesterday, 220 to 99.

Forty-two Republicans and six Democrats voted for the bill in the Senate. Twenty-six Democrats and two Republicans, Cooper of Kentucky and Morse of Oregon, opposed it.

While the House vote was well over the two-thirds required to override a Presidential veto, the Senate count fell short of that mark.

It was generally concluded at the Capitol that Mr. Truman's supporters in the Senate could make a veto stick.

The White House remained silent on the chance of Presidential disapproval. However, all the President's comments on the nation's fiscal situation in recent months have stressed his view that taxes should not be reduced this year, but that any surplus government funds should be applied on the $258,000,000,000 public debt.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), however, was not ready to admit that a veto is inevitable. In a statement issued a few hours before the Senate acted finally on the legislation, the Republican policy chief declared:

"I don't believe the President can afford to veto this bill, because it would put him definitely on the side of high taxes and high expenses."

"The President ought not to veto this bill unless he regards it as a dangerous threat to the welfare of the country, which it obviously is not."

Plenty For Debts
Taft declared that even if business drops below its present volume, there would be an $8,000,000,000 surplus in the treasury in the fiscal year beginning July 1 without a tax cut. He said that left "plenty" for debt reduction.

Here are the cuts set up in the bill on a full year's basis:

30 percent off for taxpayers with net incomes (after exemptions and deductions) of $1,000 or less.

20 to 30 percent off on incomes between $1,000 and $1,400.

20 percent off on incomes from $1,400 to $136,720.

15 percent off between $136,720 and $302,400.

10.5 percent off on all taxable income above $302,400.

Because the bill would take effect at the middle of the calendar year, the percentage reductions for calendar 1947 would be cut in half. Thus, a man slated to get a 20 percent cut would receive only 10 percent off this year, although the full 20 percent would be effective in 1948.

Legislators In Lansing
Battle Over Drastic
Anti-Strike Bill

Lansing, Mich., June 3 (P)—An omnibus labor bill was thrown into a House-Senate conference committee tonight in an attempt to iron out late session disputes over the severity of restrictive labor legislation.

The Senate refused to accept drastic amendments made to its bill requiring compulsory arbitration in public utility and hospital strikes, to which the House had attached previously defeated bills including a ban on closed shops and a requirement for majority votes for strike action.

The conference committee consists of Senators Bonine, Tripp and Quinlan and Reps. Dimmick, Hutchinson and Mezzano.

Tired Army Brass Must Get Along In Chairs At $9 Each

Washington, June 3 (P)—How much should it cost the government to support tired Army officers?

Rep. Albert J. Engel (R-Mich.) told the House rules committee today he thought it too high when he heard the Army planned to buy 161,000 chairs for officers' quarters at $26 each.

Engel was chairman of an appropriations subcommittee that wrote the pending war department supply bill.

He said the Army finally bought chairs costing $9 each.

"I figured the taxpayers would be a lot more uncomfortable than the Army officers if all that money was spent," he observed.

Argentina And U. S.
Patch Up Quarrel;
Axis Interests OutRAISE OFFERED
IN COAL MINES

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, June 3 (P)—The United States and Argentina finally patched up their five year-long dispute today.

Then in a momentous White House conference they took the first decisive step in more than a year toward negotiating an inter-American defense pact.

Thus the end of the sometimes bitter quarrel over Argentina's war and postwar relations with Axis interests evidently means restoration of diplomatic unity among the 21 American nations.

It also clears the way for winding up a long time split, over how to handle the Argentine affair, between Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden and Ambassador George Messersmith at Buenos Aires. Both men are expected to step out of their positions at an early date.

Present at the White House conference with President Truman were Secretary of State Marshall, Argentine Ambassador Oscar Ivanissevich and Undersecretary of State Acheson. Following the conference the White House issued a statement making these two major disclosures:

1. Ivanissevich had reviewed with Mr. Truman and Marshall steps "which his government has taken and is continuing to take" in fulfillment of its obligations under the act of Chapultepec to rid itself of Axis influences, economic interests and personalities.

2. President Truman thereupon "indicated his willingness to renew" consultations with other American governments on the holding of an inter-American defense conference with Argentina a participant.

For more than a year the United States had taken the position that it would not join in such a conference with Argentina until the government of President Juan D. Peron carried out its anti-Axis pledges.

The conference is scheduled to be held at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Steps recently taken by Argentina under the act of Chapultepec, which was adopted at an inter-American conference in Mexico City in 1945, have included arrests and deportation of Axis Nationals in Argentina, ridding Argentina schools of Axis influences and seizing Axis businesses in the country.

RIVAL GROUPS TO RULE TWO
HUGE NATIONSSTATE OF PAKISTAN AND HINDUSTAN
PROPOSED

BY WALTER J. MASON
New Delhi, June 3 (P)—Britain announced today to India, nearly 400,000,000 people a new plan for independence which probably will mean splitting the vast sub-continent into two huge nations, each of them among the biggest in the world.

Indian leaders of the embittered rival factions appealed to the people in broadcasts to support the plan. They assured the Viceroy, Lord Mountbatten, that under the plan they would proceed with the division of the country into Hindustan, a Hindu state, and Pakistan, a Moslem nation, and would take over the power from the British as peacefully as they knew how.

FREIGHT TRAINS
COLLIDE; 3 DEADMonon Railroad Wreck
In Indiana Fatal To Trainmen

Battle Ground, Ind., June 3 (P)—Two trainmen were killed, a third was presumed dead and a fourth injured today in a head-on collision of two diesel-powered freight trains on the Monon railroad a mile and a half north of here. All were from Lafayette, Ind.

The wreck piled up 25 freight cars, five of them on top of one another.

Frank E. Cheshire, vice-president in charge of operations for the Monon, blamed the crew of the southbound train for the crash.

"Both trains held written train orders to meet at Ash Grove, 1.34 miles north of the point of collision," Cheshire said. "The train and engine crews of the southbound train failed to comply with that order."

The dead were Hayden E. Meeker, 53, and William K. Young, 52, engineer and fireman, respectively, on the north-bound train. Wrecking crews tonight were still searching for James K. Robinson, 44, head brakeman on the southbound freight, and believed he had been killed under the wreckage.

The injured man is Ray B. Tully, 62, engineer of the southbound freight, who suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Young and Robinson died in the wreckage.

Rubber Boat Tips;
Two Grand Rapids
Fishermen Drown

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., June 3 (P)—Two Grand Rapids fishermen drowned 50 miles north of here, when their rubber boat capsized on the Batchawana river, Ontario provincial police reported today.

The victims were Albert Lotterman, 52, and Harold Com, 34. Pilot George Trussler of the Ontario department of lands and forests, said two surviving members of the fishing party, whose names were not immediately available, had walked several miles overland to get help.

The swift waters of the river would make recovery of the bodies extremely difficult, Police Constable Fred Rawlings said.

They will spend most of today there and will leave for Benton Harbor this evening.

Miss Hiawathaland candidates gave each visitor an Escanaba Chamber of Commerce brochure containing detailed information about the city, a letter of welcome from the city, pertinent data about the Hiawathaland festival and a complete program of all the festival activities.

The candidates were guests of the House of Ludington at a buffet luncheon at which time they received instructions for the queen contest campaign.

Riflists Wreck City Floodlights At Skiing Grounds

Floodlamps erected last winter at the Escanaba Ski park by city crews have been considerably damaged by riflists who used the lamps as targets, city officials disclosed yesterday.

Municipal workers retrieved the floodlights yesterday to get them into shape for use in connection with the Hiawathaland Festival. All of the bulbs had been broken and every reflector damaged, some with as many as two dozen bullet holes. The least damaged was pierced with three bullets.

Most of the reflectors had been shot, not with 22 caliber rifles generally used by youngsters, but with high powered rifles of larger calibre, indicating that the small fry is not the only deplorable in the community.

Veterans with chronic ailments who cannot support themselves are cared for in VA homes. The number now in homes is the largest since the beginning of World War II.

Advance Ticket Sale For Festival Pageant Will Open Here Today

Plans for the advance ticket sale for the historical spectacle, "Hiawathaland Saga," to be given the nights of July 3, 4, 5 and 6 at the high school stadium, were announced yesterday by Earl Frechette, chairman of the advance ticket committee.

The advanced ticket sale will continue until the week before the opening of the Hiawathaland Festival, and during this time, an opportunity will be offered to purchase three tickets for the regular price of two.

"During the advance ticket sale only, starting Wednesday and extending to June 28, the bargain offer of "three for two" will be in effect," Mr. Frechette said. "After the advance sale, general admission tickets will sell at the regular box office price, plus federal tax."

The advance tickets may be exchanged with the payment of federal tax at festival headquarters, Chamber of Commerce office, or at the box office on the nights of the performances for general admission tickets. They may also be exchanged for a reserved seat to the performance at a value equal to the face value of general admission tickets, plus the payment of the reservation fee and federal tax. A strip of three advance tickets may be exchanged for two reserved seats, plus the payment of federal tax.

Grede Foundry Now Employs 87

Iron Mountain—"Despite the fact that we have five plants, we are a comparatively small business. Our total employment is approximately 800 and in no one of the plants does it exceed 350. Each unit is closely knit and small enough to rely principally on local management for judgment and decisions," William Grede, president of the Grede Foundries, told Rotarians and their guests at a noon luncheon yesterday at the Dickinson hotel.

"It is true," the speaker continued, "that we keep our books and do other functions in our main office, but a good part of the foundry business, still being an art, rather than a science, requires close supervision."

The Iron Mountain plant, Grede told his audience, employs 87 persons and has a weekly payroll of approximately $4,500. "To make jobs for these 87 people, we have an investment in plant and equipment, inventory and working capital of approximately $5,000 per person," the speaker said. "Our production of iron castings is at the rate of about 3,000 tons annually."

Unreasonable Demand

The demand of John L. Lewis for a 35 cents an hour wage increase for coal miners and rejection by Lewis of the mine operators' offer of a 15 cents an hour increase may presage another costly coal strike when the mines are returned by the government to private operators at the end of this month.

The extravagant demand of Lewis for a wage increase more than double that already established as the general pattern for industrial workers in the nation is extremely discouraging. The operators' counter offer of 15 cents fits into that pattern and shows a desire on the part of the owners to reach a reasonable and fair agreement with the miners.

The negotiations that broke down Saturday involved the operation of coal mines in the north and west, representing about 75 per cent of the nation's total production. Negotiations with the southern operators were scheduled to be resumed yesterday but the fact that Lewis, as dictator of the coal mines, dispersed his policy committee even before negotiations got under way, indicates that hope for a settlement with the more hostile southern group was all but nil.

That Lewis, by his preposterous demand would force a paralyzing coal strike at a time when congressional action on restrictive union legislation is pending shows the disdain that the union boss has for congressional authority. If he persists in going through with this strike on the basis of his unreasonable demand, he will be doing one more disservice to labor unionism which he pretends to champion.

Repeat Is the Answer

REP. ROY JENSEN, Escanaba legislator, declared, in effect, in a statement at Lansing Monday that the sales tax diversion amendment is poor legislation and that the school teachers would work for its repeal "if they knew all its implications."

When the sales tax diversion amendment was adopted by the voters last fall, mainly through concerted efforts of the school lobby, there was no expectation that part of the funds that the schools had hoped to get would be channeled for operation of state educational institutions, normally paid from the state general fund. Faced with a serious financial problem that developed from the adoption of the sales tax diversion amendment, the legislators found the technicality in the amendment that permitted them to recapture at least a portion of the lost revenue.

Rep. Jensen failed to mention the greatest evil of the sales tax amendment—the fact that it provides liberal appropriations to many townships and cities that do not sorely need the added revenue, while it impoverished the state. If it were not for the fact that the amendment funnels huge sums of money to some local governmental units that do not need it, there would be a more generous attitude on the part of legislators to give the schools the money they need to improve the educational system.

Halting the Maligner

NEWSPAPERS in Michigan and other states will watch with keen interest the results of a new Wisconsin law, adopted at the request of Wisconsin newspapers, which makes it a misdemeanor for any person to submit to any publication false statements concerning any person or corporation, or false and unauthorized advertisements.

The new law is designed to stop the practice of malicious or mischievous persons who submit false news stories relating to marriage engagements and marriage announcements, to the embarrassment of the persons concerned and damaging to the newspaper's prestige and reader confidence. It also is designed to halt such irresponsible practices as the placement of false advertisements of houses and apartments to rent, listing false addresses, just for a joke.

The problem is not one confined to Wisconsin newspapers. Every publication has been plagued by these maligners, some of whom are downright malicious in their efforts. If the Wisconsin statute aptly serves its purpose, it is probable that legislators of other states will be asked to adopt similar statutes.

The Kinross Port

THE airport at Kinross, Chippewa County, is coming into its own through arrangements recently consummated with Trans-Canada Airlines, which will make it a fairly busy terminal.

The field and its appointments will be when completed, it is said, one of the ten best assemblies of the kind in the United States. Built during the war at a cost of approximately three million dollars, it has been used up to now by one daily trip of the Pennsylvania Airlines to Detroit, with close connections at Traverse City for Chicago.

By July 1 at the latest, Trans-Canada will be operating four trips a day each way through Kinross on a coast-to-coast hook-up. One will be able to leave Montreal or Toronto in the morning, have lunch aboard, and take dinner at a not-too-late hour in Vancouver, British Columbia. Close connections will be made at Toronto for New York City, the flying time from the Sault and Kinross to New York being four hours.

This will make it handy for Upper Peninsula folks, and those from the northern part of the Lower Peninsula traveling eastward, to drive to Kinross and take one of the daily planes from there. Or, if headed westward, the same will apply to traffic bound for Port Arthur, Fort William, Winnipeg and the Canadian northwest. Emergency ports are being made ready at Grand Marais and Houghton, but they have not been designated as yet as regular points of call.

The Kinross assembly has been leased by the U. S. Government to the city of Sault Ste. Marie for a period of five years. Customs and immigration facilities are being provided, as well as bus service direct to Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, across St. Mary's river from Michigan. Thus this costly port, built for war emergency purposes, will be devoted to commercial uses by two great nations on a reciprocal and friendly basis.

An Improvement

AN act signed by Governor Sigler raising the minimum drivers license age from 14 to 16 years is definitely an improvement over the existing statute, even though the lawmakers inserted a loophole in the act which will make it possible for 14 year old motorists to get a license under certain circumstances.

Under the new act which becomes effective next fall youths between the ages of 14 and 16 will be able to get a driver license, good only for one year, provided their parents agree to assume full responsibility for damages or court fines incurred by the youthful driver.

The increase in the minimum age of drivers has been recommended by traffic and safety organizations after a study of traffic cases revealed that 14 and 15 year old motorists were responsible for much more than their share of accidents.

THOSE WHO PAY (Duluth News-Tribune)

A lot of taxpayers will not believe it until they see the money with their own eyes, but it is remarkable, nevertheless, that congress has agreed on a tax reduction plan. For many it is not so much the money as the principle of the thing. It has been a long time since the American taxpayer has had any reason to feel that any part of the government worried enough about him to make tax concessions that he could actually see.

If Congress has its way there will be a national demonstration of something too often forgotten—that economies in government can be translated into more money in the hands of the public. If our public servants spend a little less the rest of the people can have a little more for their manifold needs or to save.

There is something to watch for, however. We have other kinds of government, state and local. Nearly all of them would like to have more money to spend. The one place they can get it is from the people. With any easing of the federal tax load there may be a disposition in some places to push up other taxes to absorb any loose money that may result from a federal move of this kind.

States and local governments do not have the taxing powers of the federal government, but some of the same principles can be observed. There is the same overdue need to consider the people who pay the bills, the same tendency for executives to suggest various ways of spending money which are praiseworthy, perhaps, but which have very little relation to the people's ability to pay.

It is something new to have congress wooing the taxpayers with a favor of this kind. It would be a fine thing to have the fashion spread. People don't expect miracles, perhaps some units of government really cannot cut expenses at all. Some of them may find they will have to do so, though, if there is a perceptible fall in the national income and the people's ability to pay taxes of all sorts.

Americans spend millions on antiques in England. Maybe because it's hard to get properly aged stuff over here.

The striving for sonority, "pear-shaped tones" (whatever that term means), or the basso profundo is quite out of date in today's radio technique. Of course, a pleasant quality and frontal resonance are greatly to be desired. But naturalness of tone production is of far more importance. Broadcasters with naturally good voices are very

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Minneapolis, Minn.—The cost of a college degree can be very high. For many of the 15,000 veterans here at the University of Minnesota, it is high in terms of sacrifice and even privation.

With a total enrollment of 25,000 students, the problem of finding a place to live is acute. Young couples with children find it especially difficult. They are suffering under the wicked squeeze of the inflation that be devils us.

To help out, the university established University Village on a ten-acre site. It is also called Fertile Acres and you understand why when you see the procession of bachelors and the innumerable toddlers. You can duplicate University Village on almost any large campus in the country as educators try to come with mass education.

To be eligible to live in University Village, you must be a married veteran with a child or a child soon to be born. In 214 trailers, 96 prefabs, 100 quonset huts and 124 barracks, there are 534 families.

—NO RUNNING WATER—

You move from the waiting list into a trailer. The trailers have no running water. There are community bath houses for men and women. Cooking is done on a small kerosene stove.

If you're lucky, you will move after a few months from a trailer to a quonset hut, or to a family unit in one of the barracks with running water and plumbing.

Take a typical family in University Village. Let's call them the Bill Smiths. Bill is 25. He was in his second year of engineering when he was drafted into the army, where he served nearly five years in almost every theater of the war. He was discharged with the rank of major.

Bill and his wife, Betty, are one of the lucky families in half a quonset hut. They have a daughter two and a half and another child on the way.

Making ends meet is tough—very tough. Bill has $90 a month under the GI bill. He makes about $90 more as a night watchman on the shift from midnight to 3:30 a. m. In the winter, when fires have to be tended, that is no easy job.

Because Bill's income is over $120 a month, the university charges him $44 a month for his half of a quonset. Right at the start that takes a big bite out of the family income. Bill and Betty are trying to save up money for the new baby. They estimate the cost will be a minimum of $150, and that means leaving the hospital for the quonset hut as soon as the doctor permits.

I asked Bill when he found time to study. Third-year engineering isn't a pipe course. Grinning at this question, he said that study had to be sandwiched in at any and all hours. The couple next door, he pointed out, are both taking full courses, the husband in the daytime and the wife at night.

Both Betty and Bill are feeling the burden. The doctor tells Bill he must slow up. Betty, who is pretty and delicate-looking, is not well.

—SEEKS CHILDREN'S CENTER—

There is no play center, nothing but the dusty, cinder-covered street. The youngster is a constant source of anxiety. Since the beginning of spring, a dozen children have strayed away and frantic mothers have had to appeal to the police for help.

The university is trying to find a surplus building that could be used as a child care center and as a recreation hall for the grown-ups. But that will cost. Bill has been told, $40,000 to $60,000 to equip and maybe it won't be possible. Certainly it is badly needed, as is also a health clinic.

Yet Bill and Betty do not complain. They are remarkably patient. Bill says: "Well, I guess they're trying to do the best they can for us. And after all, it's an education."

That's one of the extraordinary things about the army of veterans that has come back. Contrary to the dire talk we heard while they were away, they have become part of the normal life of the country with very little dislocation.

The test will come, it seems to me, when Bill and the millions like him finish this education grind. If they step out into a job that pays a fair salary, then all will be well. But if the jobs aren't there, then I think we will hear from the men who have adjusted so readily to the pursuits of peace.

fortunate—they should leave well enough alone.

Enunciation, very distinct. Cross's articulation is not as studied as it was; but there still is a preciseness about it that is reminiscent of his dictation-award days. This is especially true of his work on opera broadcasts, and other programs of serious music. I have noticed also that Cross's breathing is quite audible. I should watch this if I were he.

Style, a curious blending of pomposity and a rather elephantine playfulness, as if he were a little in awe of himself at being Doctor Cross, but determined to be a half-fellow-well-met notwithstanding. Recipe: Temper pomposity, and leave the comedy to Messrs. Hope, Benny, and Durante.

Pronunciation, Standard American. He uses no broad A's. Cross is particularly accurate in his pronunciations of names of operas, composers, singers, and musicians. I believe that he is easily at the top of the list in this regard, and young announcers may well follow his good example, with the warning, however, that facility in pronouncing foreign names and phrases is not easily achieved.

During the broadcast checked for this article, Cross did not mispronounce any foreign or English word to my knowledge. His work before the microphone shows study, preparation, and intelligence.

Score. Voice, 20; enunciation, 22; style, 15; pronunciation, 25. Total, 82. Rating, very good.

POISON SNAKES—With summer coming on and many people making plans for vacation trips to the out-of-doors, there is the usual fear, among a certain group, of encountering poison snakes.

Dunathan

They might better be concerned about the danger of traffic accidents, falling down stairs, having their finger caught in the clothes wringer, or stepping on a rusty nail, so far as actual hazard is concerned. For there is but one poisonous snake in the whole state of Michigan, and that is found only in southern Michigan, according to the game division of the conservation department.

"Michigan's only rattler"—and only poisonous snake also—is the massasauga, a species that seldom grows more than two and a half to three feet long. Generally found in swampy and marshy places, it is not uncommon in a few of the larger marshes of southern Michigan," the conservation department reports.

NONE IN U. P.—It can be presumed, therefore, that the Upper Peninsula of Michigan is without poisonous snakes of any kind, although we have heard unverified reports that rattlesnakes have been found in the western section of the U. P. near Wisconsin. We emphasize that these reports have been but rumors.

John Chriske, district conservation supervisor, who came here recently from Iron River, and has spent most of his life in the Upper Peninsula, says that he has never heard of a rattler being killed in this part of the state. "If I had, I would have made every effort to verify the report," he added.

THE BLUFFER—Found probably in every county in the U. P., but most numerous in south and west tier of counties, is the pine snake—the biggest reptilian bluffer we have ever seen. The pine snake grows to a length of five and even six feet, is a dirty yellow in color, with many rather large irregular markings of brownish black.

Altogether it is a dangerous looking specimen, but it is as harmless as milk and water. The pine snake, when surprised, will stand its ground, and if tormented will even coil and strike with all of the apparent ferocity of a venomous creature. But it is all a bluff. For the pine snake has no fangs and is non-poisonous.

If left alone for even a moment it will glide toward obscuring grass or bushes and will run away. If cornered it will stand its ground, however, and go through all of the traditional defensive movements. These are usually sufficient to frighten away its bigger enemies, for the pine snake is large itself.

THEY HAVE TEETH—While the pine snake, garter snake, and the few other snakes to be found in the U. P. do not have poison fangs—they do have teeth. The teeth of the large pine snake are sufficiently large to leave pin-prick marks. The smaller garter snake cannot penetrate a man's skin with its teeth.

The snakes use their teeth in seizing food but not for chewing, as the prey is swallowed whole.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Washington.—President Roosevelt canvassed the general European situation with his state department aides today, but White House attaches said he gave no indication of any new foreign policy.

Lansing.—The house of representatives removed controversial items totaling $60,000,000 from the special state purposes appropriation bill today, leaving them for future disposal.

Alexander Kaminsky, noted Russian violinist, will appear in a sacred recital at the First Baptist church here Sunday afternoon. The concert is being sponsored by the First Baptist church of Gladstone and Calvary Baptist churches of this city.

All twelve garages in Escanaba and Gladstone have signed an agreement for one year with Local No. 302 of the International Union of Automobile Workers of America, it was announced yesterday.

Twenty Years Ago

New Orleans.—The Atchafalaya river flood exerted pressure on the last line of man made barriers tonight as it gathered the diminishing force of its crest in the south portion of central Louisiana before passing out into the Gulf of Mexico.

Lansing.—The William J. Thomas bill which authorizes the appointment of a three man state tax commission, to succeed the tax commission of which George Lord of Detroit is now chairman, was signed today by Governor Fred W. Green.

New state highway legislation and its effect on road construction in the peninsula; snow removal, maintenance problems, uniform markings for country roads, county timber reserves and parks and wider rights-of-way were the principal topics discussed in yesterday's busy session of the annual convention of the Northern Michigan Road Builders association.

A considerable number of Escanaba and Delta county men yesterday attended the sixteenth annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau at Iron Mountain.

Poisonous snakes, of course, have their perforated fangs in the upper jaw, through which the poison fluid passes from glands at the base of the fang to its point—and thence into the victim.

BUT NO EARS—Back in the gay days of the 1920's when the hideous-bustless figure was fashionable, the "flappers" and "sheiks" (they call them bobby-soxers now) used an expressive phrase to indicate approval "It's the snake's hips" was the height of approbrium.

Just as the snake has no "hips" neither does it have an external ear. That portion of the ear through which the snake detects sound is covered by skin and scales. In fact some species such as the rattlesnakes, are practically deaf. It may interest you to know that the snake sleeps with its eyes open, and that these eyes that do not close are protected by a transparent cap that is shed with the skin.

Because the body of the snake is covered with dry scales—don't let anyone tell a snake is "slimy"—its sense of touch is not keen. The snake's best organ of touch is its tongue, long slender and forked, which it thrusts out when it wants to find out what is immediately in front of its nose. The flickering tongue is a harm-

Q. How old is the civilization of India?

A. The exact age of Indian civilization is not known though it is believed to be one of the oldest in the world. The Aryans or Hindus who invaded India between 2400 and 1500 B. C. found that the land already was well civilized.

Q. How did the term "pin-money" originate?

A. In the fourteenth century pins were allowed to be sold only on the 1st and 2nd of January. As they were so expensive that only the wealthy could buy them, it became the custom to give a woman money at the time of her marriage for buying pins. Now, of course, pins are so inexpensive that anyone can buy them, but the term has remained to denote a woman's spending money.

Q. Why do diamonds and other precious stones have such brilliancy?

A. Because of their ability to refract light. Also, they are cut artificially in such a way as to form a series of prisms, which separate the rays of light falling on them into many colored rays.

Q. Why is John Masefield called the "Poet Laureate" of England?

A. "Poet Laureate" means "The Poet of the Laurel Wreath." This title originated in Greek custom when the winning poet in a contest was crowned with a laurel wreath. However, the title "Poet Laureate" began in Germany in the twelfth century where the ancient Greek ceremony was revived. Tradition has it that in England the first Poet Laureate was Geoffrey Chaucer on whom Edward III bestowed the honor along with a yearly pension of 100 marks after Petrarch had been similarly crowned in Rome. However, it did not become an established office in England until 1619 when Ben Jonson was so honored.

less thing, so don't let it frighten you.

THEY HAVE VALUE—Snakes are too often regarded with fear and repulsion, when they should be considered friends of mankind. All of the snakes found in the Upper Peninsula are harmless. And even if you are outside this paradise, you will find that venomous species do not usually attack human beings deliberately.

On the other hand, snakes kill large numbers of rats, mice and other crop-destroying rodents, thereby rendering valuable service to the farmer. If you want to keep nature's world in balance, let the snakes live.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—One of the most secret meetings since war days was held behind tightly barred doors in Washington's vast Pentagon building last week.

Pearson

The meeting was called for the purpose of mobilizing American industry against the possibility of another war. Plans were laid in detail for the establishment of an industry reserve corps of American workers and employers in major American industries.

Purpose of the reserve corps would be to prepare industry for rapid conversion to wartime production in an emergency. Special training courses for employers and employees will be worked out if the plan finally is approved. The industrial corps would have units in every major manufacturing plant in the nation.

However, the recruitment of these industrial "minutemen" would be entirely voluntary.

The secret Pentagon meeting, called by Secretary of War Patterson, was attended by a number of prominent industrialists and labor leaders, including representatives of the Edison Electric Company, The National Association of Manufacturers, American Federation of Labor, CIO, The U. S. Chamber of Commerce, The Railway Labor Brotherhoods, The Association of American Railroads, Radio Corporation of America, The Aircraft Industry, The Petroleum Institute and others.

All those present were pledged to secrecy. However, it can be revealed that Secretary of War Patterson and General Eisenhower issued a grim reminder regarding the dangers of another war—if it should come.

What Patterson and Eisenhower told the leaders was that while we had from 12 to 18 months to prepare for the last war before we were attacked, we wouldn't have one hour to prepare for an attack in the present atomic age.

The military chief warned that if the United States ever became involved in another war, the enemy would strike without a moment's notice and that, because of this, American productive machinery must be prepared for any eventualities.

—BILBO'S JAW—

Sen. Theodore Bilbo of Mississippi is re-entering Ochsners Foundation hospital for another and probably final operation on his jaw.

A piece of bone taken from his hip will be grafted into Bilbo's jawbone. The Mississippi Senator will then have to remain in the hospital from two to four weeks, which means he won't return to Washington before the adjournment of Congress in July.

Thus the question of unseating him will be deferred until the next Congressional session in January. Meantime, Bilbo will continue to draw his $15,000 a year ($12,500 salary; $2,500 expenses) just as every other member of the Senate, even though he never has taken the oath of office.

—DANGEROUS GOVERNMENT JOBS—

One problem faced by J. Edgar Hoover in keeping the FBI efficient is the relatively low salaries paid to G-men and the raids on the FBI made by private industry. Various corporations constantly are enticing some of Hoover's ablest operators away from him.

To counteract this, legislation has been introduced in Congress liberalizing pensions for G-men. Whereas most civil service employees can retire on pension only after reaching 62, it is proposed that because of the dangerous nature of their work, G-men be permitted to retire at the age of 50 if they have served for 20 years.

The bill came up for discussion in a closed-door meeting of the House Civil Service Committee recently, where Rep. George Miller, Democrat, of Alameda, California, said he was in sympathy with the bill, but added:

"FBI agents aren't the only federal employees with hazardous jobs. You know some of the stories about the border patrols of customs people. Some of the agents of the Fish and Wildlife Service are also exposed to disease and danger. There's plenty of hazard to some of the work done by Fish and Wildlife agents in the snake-infested, malaria-ridden swamps in Florida and Louisiana.

"Then you've got the Secret Service and the Revenue Agents and lots of others. Many of them risk their lives just as much as the G-men."

Freshman Republican Thurston Ballard of Kentucky supported Miller.

"In my country, up in the hills," he said, "there are plenty of spots where they just shoot on sight when they see a suspicious stranger. After they shoot, they ask the stranger if he was a revenue man—if he can still talk. First they shoot, then they apologize."

Miller then asked a representative of the civil service commission's retirement division what type of government employee suffered greatest hardship. Committee members were astonished at his reply.

"Statistics of our division show that postal employees apply more often than any other group of employees for retirement benefits," he said. "And it's mainly the carriers, who get all sorts of disabilities from the nature of their jobs. They have to be out tramping with heavy loads through all sorts of weather. Rheumatism would be a comparatively mild ailment for some of them."

The committee approved the measure to liberalize the retirement regulations for G-men, but it is now expected that similar benefits will be voted for other government employees.

Ban Tobacco In Mail To Germany

Under a new ruling, effective now, the mailing of cigars and other tobacco products to Germany, is prohibited, according to Postmaster Regina Cleary.

The new order is the result of the cigar black market which has flourished in Germany. The war department is supplying a sufficient amount of tobacco to soldiers on occupation duty and civilian workers in the occupation zone.

The order reads as follows: "The transmission of cigars and tobacco products for delivery in Germany both through Army Postal Service and the International Mails has been prohibited effective May 26.

"Postmasters are therefore directed to question the mailers as to the contents of parcels addressed for delivery through any of the APO's — listed as well as parcels addressed for delivery in Germany through the International Mails and shall refuse to accept for mailing any containing cigars or other tobacco products."

Attention of the public was directed to the order so that it will not be necessary for the post office to refuse packages for mailing to Germany, or cause them to

Pneumonia Fatal To Mrs. Mary Maynard, Former Resident

Older residents of Escanaba will be interested in knowing of the death of Mrs. Mary Maynard, of Los Angeles, who formerly lived in this city. Mrs. Maynard died May 19, at the age of 82 years, her death resulting from pneumonia.

Both she and her husband were in business in Escanaba for several years. The family moved, in 1906, to Los Angeles, where Mr. Maynard died in February of 1935.

Surviving are three sons, Leo A. Clement J., and Alaric, L., and two daughters, Mrs. Irene Hawken and Mrs. Eva Hugel, all of Los Angeles; three brothers, Eldridge E., of Phoenix, Ariz.; Clifford A., of Lafayette, Ind.; and Dr. Edward J. Barabe, of Los Angeles; one sister, Mrs. Virginia Hadrich, of North Hollywood, Calif.; ten grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Services at which Rev. Francis R. Maynard, O. F. M., Mrs. Maynard's grandson, officiated, were held in St. Agnes' church, in Los Angeles, on May 22, and burial was made in Calvary cemetery.

Mrs. Maynard was a member of L'Union Canadienne Francaise et Catholique of Marquette and the Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters in Escanaba and Los Angeles.

900 In County Are Still Unemployed

The number of Delta county unemployed remained unchanged during the month of May, with approximately 900 persons throughout the county seeking work. James M. Damitz, local M. S. E. S. officer manager, announced yesterday. Of this total, 600 were veterans and 100 were women; 249 persons, 152 of whom were veterans, were referred from the office to discuss job opportunities with local employers, be opened, the tobacco removed, and then rewrapped.

'Stuffed Shirt' Of Five Loses Ill-Gotten Gains

Kids do all sorts of things; sometimes are chastised, sometimes not.

Monday morning the sun shone beautifully on a five-year-old boy's angelic face. Passing a local taxi stand he decided to go in and have a look. Watching people trying to get away is always fun.

A pop stand in the back attracted him and he sauntered over. It was warm; a soft drink would have tasted good. However he was without a nickel.

Then an idea occurred to him and turning around he surveyed the place. Thinking no one could see him the little fellow, about two feet tall, began to stuff empty bottles in the front of his oversize jacket.

Every few minutes he would look around and hope no person knew what he was doing. Then with a frontful of bottles he surreptitiously made his way out. A clerk and taxi driver had been observing, said nothing.

As the little tike came out the front entry the driver came out a side door. Upon meeting the youngster with his arms folded across his waist to prevent the bottles from dropping out, he ordered the boy to return them immediately.

Tears and bottles spilled all over as the youngster sheepishly walked ahead and back where he had come from. When the pilfered goods had been extricated from the front of his voluminous jacket the little fellow really tore away—much to the amusement of onlookers.

Though he was afraid—maybe the man would call the police—the little boy who did and did not understand the right of private property looked chastised. Sufficient to live in his memory for a long time.

which resulted in 91 placements, 57 of whom were veterans.

Woods operations were slow in getting started because of inclement weather conditions. Local concerns are at peak employment and labor turnover is negligible. Job openings exist in the industrial centers, but the housing situation is still critical.

Aviation Cadet Pilot Training Offered Youth

Young men between 18 and 27 can now enter aviation cadet pilot training in the Army directly from civilian life, Captain Walter T. Meyers commanding the Escanaba recruiting station, announced yesterday. The cadet flying program, closed shortly after V-J Day, was reopened last March. But it was limited to enlisted men then in the Army, Captain Meyers emphasized.

To qualify applicants must be single and agree to remain unmarried during the training period. Captain Meyers pointed out. They should have at least two years of college or be able to pass an educational examination. Prospective cadets are required to be of excellent character, sound physique and in good health.

Aviation cadet graduates will be commissioned second lieutenants and assigned to pilot duty with the Army Air Forces, Captain Meyers said. They will serve on active duty for the duration plus six months, or for three years, unless relieved earlier. Cadets entering directly from civilian life who fail to complete the pilot training course will be discharged from the Army, he said.

There is a limited number of vacancies, so Captain Meyers urges those interested to apply immediately. Application blanks can be obtained at the U. S. Army recruiting station at 1215 Ludington street, Escanaba. The next two classes will start July 1 and October 15.

Qualified applicants will be placed on an eligibility list, according to Captain Meyers. When a quota is available, they will receive orders from the Army's Adj.-Gen. authorizing their enlistment as aviation cadets. These orders will also cover applicants' transportation to the primary flying training school at Randolph Field, Texas.

Patrick Kelly, U. P. Fair Official, Dies

Patrick Kelly of Watersmeet, member of the Upper Peninsula State Fair board of managers for several years, died at Grandview hospital in Ironwood yesterday morning. He had been ailing for several weeks.

Funeral services will be held in Watersmeet Friday morning.

Veterans filing applications for hospital or domiciliary care continue to total around 70,000 monthly in the U. S., according to Veterans Administration.

Paint Is Produced At Iron Mountain

Houghton, Mich.—Production of between 75,000 and 100,000 gallons of paint in 1947 is the goal of Charles and Evan Nelson, former residents of Atlantic Mine, who for the past seven years have owned and operated the Nelson company, Upper Peninsula's only paint manufacturing plant, located at 1232 Prospect avenue, Iron Mountain.

Starting in 1940 on a shoestring with the conviction that paint-making could be developed into a profitable enterprise in Iron Mountain, the Nelson brothers nursed their business through the war years. War broke out shortly after the plant was opened in 1940. Lack of materials forced the brothers to operate the plant on a part time or "sideline" basis.

This year, with vital materials and supplies gradually re-appearing on the market, the plant is being operated on full scale, employing four men and plans are drafted for expansion as soon as conditions permit. Due to wartime

Guard Rails Are Erected At Locks

Sault Ste. Marie—Additional guard rails are being installed at the east end of the MacArthur locks by the U. S. Engineers this week.

The rails, extending between the two sets of gates will fence off open walls where tourists congregate. Townspeople and tourists are again cautioned by engineers to stay behind the yellow lines and not get in the way of the lockmen and ship cables.

The painting of yellow stripes around all danger areas is nearly completed.

Dr. Frederick Cox Is Dead In Denver

Houghton, Mich.—Dr. Frederick John Cox, 55 years old, a former resident of the Copper Country, under whose pastorate the congregation of the Warren Methodist church of Denver, Col., grew from 70 persons to 700 in 19 years, died last Saturday morning in St. Joseph's hospital in Denver. He had suffered a heart attack on Monday and was hospitalized Wednesday.

Dr. Cox was a graduate of the Painesdale high school, class of 1912, of which Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Jeffers were superintendent and principal, respectively. While in the Copper Country Dr. Cox was reporter for the Daily Mining Gazette.

Dr. Cox's success in building up the Warren church, his psychological help to his parishioners, efforts on behalf of racial tolerance and work in civic activities and for all denominations, are described in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post, in an article by Hartzell Spence.

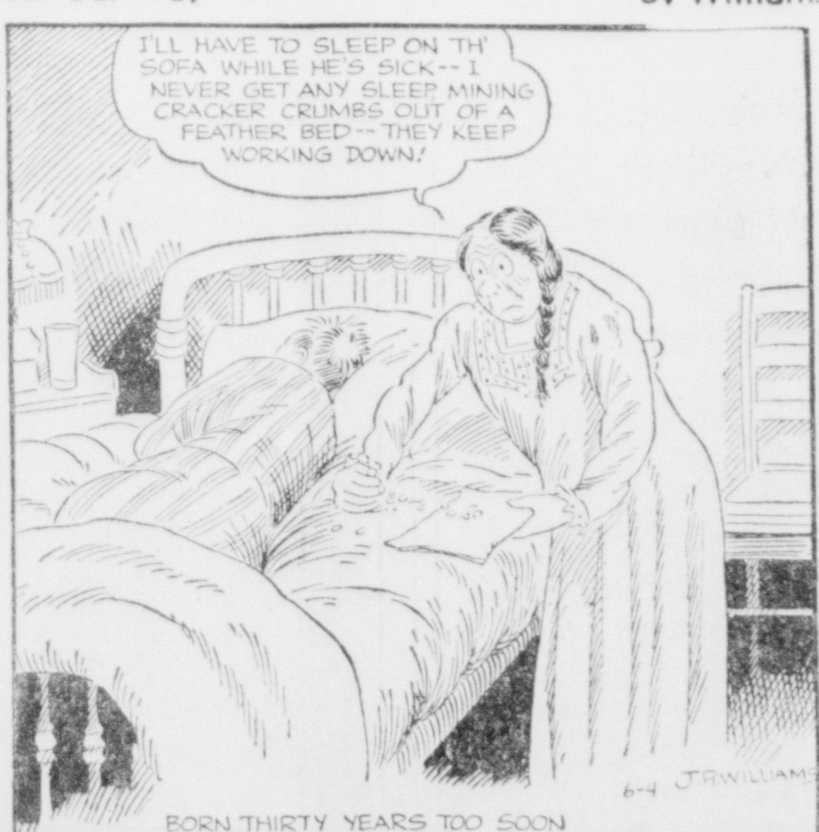

Since going to the Denver church in September, 1928, he had pulled it from debt, supervised the purchase of a parsonage and seen the final payments made, and just two weeks ago had completed arrangements with the church board for a $75,000 building campaign.

The eldest of nine sons of an English immigrant iron worker, the minister was born July 27, 1891, at Negaunee, Mich. He received his early education at Negaunee.

CIO LOCAL 423 STATES CASE

Head Of Local Now On Strike Explains Grievances

Taking sharp issue with a statement made by R. L. Prine, vice president of the Michigan Dimension company and published in the May 27 issue of the Daily Press, Lawrence LaPorte, president of Local 423, United Furniture Workers of America, CIO, issues the following statement:

"In order to correct the erroneous impression created by R. L. Prine, vice president of the Michigan Dimension company in the May 27 issue of the Escanaba Daily Press, the membership has authorized me to state as follows:

"A meeting was held during which a secret ballot strike vote was taken in compliance with existing federal and state laws. At this meeting an overwhelming majority of the membership of Local 423 voted in favor of a strike on May 24. Only 5 votes out of our 100 membership were cast against a strike. In correcting a contrary statement of Mr. Prine to these facts, we wish to state that if Mr. Prine interested himself in the business of the Michigan Dimension company and the interests of true collective bargaining as much as he interests himself in the affairs of Local 423, we doubt seriously if there would be a strike at the Michigan Dimension company today.

"The issues of the strike are a union request for 15 cents per hour increase, including other monetary concessions and a union shop. In conjunction with the first point, the union wants it clearly understood that the company has not offered any increase in wages whatsoever despite the fact that union contracts throughout the country are being settled for the 15 cent pattern. On the second point, the union shop is merely a matter of form as the union has maintained 100 per cent membership of the plant in the union for a number of years. If the company were interested in true collective bargaining relationship instead of union busting they would be able to see this clearly obvious point.

"The minimum wages in the Michigan Dimension plant are 75 cents per hour for women and 77½ per hour for men. In the other two major plants in Manistique the rates are much higher. The average rate for employees of the Michigan Dimension company are more than 10 cents per hour lower than the average wage of the Michigan furniture and woodworker including both union and non-union, large and small plants. It must also be pointed out that when other union workers were receiving the 18½ cent wage pattern of last year, the employees of the Michigan Dimension company received 10 cents per hour increase. More than six months later they received an additional 5 cents per hour.

"We, the membership of Local 423, defy the company to state that they did not make a profit last year. We also defy the Michigan Dimension company to state they could not make a wage increase at this time.

"We of the union have tried in every manner to be reasonable with the company. We have pleaded to continue negotiations even when things looked hopeless. We

National Telegraph Skeet Meet June 22

Stratford, Conn.—Skeet teams from all sections of the country will compete Sunday, June 22, in the 15th annual national telegraphic skeet championships, held in conjunction with the Great Eastern Skeet meet at the Remington Gun Club, Lordship, Conn. The tournament lasts three days, June 20, 21 and 22.

The telegraphic team championship is the oldest skeet competition by wire in the country. Entries are pouring in to the Remington Gun Club from teams all over the country and indications are that the renewal of this event, suspended during the war, will break all records.

Entrants compete on their own club grounds. Each of the five-man team members shoots four rounds, or 100 targets, and their aggregate score determines their team's standing. Scores are wired to Great Eastern officials and the high team is awarded the team championship, and trophies. Team prizes in various classes will be awarded.

extended the contract for 30 days. We requested representatives of the federal and state governments to attend the meetings. We have requested public negotiations. We have requested arbitration of the wage question. The company refused all these requests."

Do Not Disturb "Abandoned" Fawns

Local conservation officers are making a plea to people who may be wandering through woods areas and happen to come upon newly born fawns. These animals are not to be disturbed.

It has been the experience of these officers to have fawns brought to them by people who have come upon these tiny creatures and, believing that they have been abandoned, have picked them up.

Does not abandon their fawns. They keep away from them and seek to attract attention to themselves, but they never travel very far from their young. Picking up these fawns and taking them away from the scene robs them of the maternal care they need.

MES OFFICE MOVE CERTAIN

Records Of Office To Be Moved To Newberry

The local Michigan Employment Service office probably will be discontinued soon and its records moved to Newberry, it was learned yesterday.

The city council and the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors passed resolutions asking that the office remain here. Heads of the manufacturing plants, the secretary of the chamber of commerce and many local residents wrote letters to the State Unemployment Compensation bureau, but their action apparently was of no avail.

Letters were received from the bureau advising those interested that the order to discontinue the office was still in effect.

M. G. Heinz and Bernard Cook, of the local office, have been notified of their coming transfer on June 15 to the Newberry office.

The fact that the Manistique office shows the fewest number of applicants for unemployment insurance of any office in the state and that the number of employables seeking jobs was also low, is regarded as the chief reason for the move.

This, local employers claim, is a temporary situation and the need for this office may be acutely felt before long.

Those needing the services of this office will, after its closing, have to contact offices either at Escanaba or Newberry.

Parking Spaces On City Streets Being Repainted

Manistique business streets are being given their annual pavement decorations of bright yellow designating to motorists the space in which cars must be confined when parked.

The work is being done with the aid of a marking machine. Each motorist is allotted 20 feet of parking space.

DIMAGGIO GETS FOUR STRAIGHT

Joe Likes Newhouse's Offerings; Shea Gives 5 Hits

Detroit, June 3 (P) — Frank Shea, 24-year-old rookie whiz, pitched the New York Yankees within two games of the American league lead today by shutting out the first place Detroit Tigers for the second straight time, 3 to 0.

Shea, who blanked the league leaders with four hits May 21 in New York, gave them just five today to fashion his sixth straight victory, again at the expense of Detroit's ace, Hal Newhouse, who stayed seven innings and gave up six of New York's eight safeties.

Joltin' Joe DiMaggio reeled off four straight hits off Newhouse to take the American league batting leadership away from teammate George McQuinn but bounced into a ninth inning double play off relief man Hal White to end a string of seven hits in seven times at bat.

Eddie Lake's error put George Stinnett on base in the first inning and after Charley Keller walked DiMaggio slapped a single to left to score Stinnett with the first Yankee run.

Bob Montgomery, Ike Williams Sign For Title Battle

Philadelphia, June 3 (P)—A final settlement of the long-disputed lightweight boxing championship was promised today with signing of Philadelphia Bob Montgomery and Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., for a 15-round title bout at municipal stadium Aug. 4.

Montgomery is recognized as champ by the New York state athletic commission and affiliated states. Williams wears the same crown under sanction of the National boxing association, another group of state fistic governing bodies.

Managers of the two principals signed contracts and posted $500 forfeits for the battle under promotion of Herman Taylor and sponsorship of Philadelphia inquirer charities, Inc.

It will be only the second ring meeting between the two negro sluggers who have built up a bitter personal feud over the years. Their first battle in 1944 was one of the bitterest and bloodiest ever seen here with Montgomery handing Williams a brutal beating before knocking him out in the last minute of the 12th round.

Fair Harness Purses Doubled In State

Lansing, June 3 (P)—County fair harness purses will be doubled in 1948 under the provisions of a bill set up today by the state agriculture commission.

The commission set up the fund to comply with the terms of the racing act recently signed by Governor Sigler which authorizes one-half of the revenue from pari-mutuel betting on harness races to be used to swell the county fair purses so they may compete with the betting tracks.

The fund will be built up this year for use in 1948 by receipts from the Northville track, the state's only pari-mutuel harness track.

DOM DIMAGGIO OUT
St. Louis, June 3 (P)—The hard pressed Red Sox received another blow today when it was disclosed that outfielder Dom DiMaggio has a pulled shoulder ligament and will be out of action indefinitely. The "Little Professor" sat out yesterday's second game against Chicago. Manager Joe Cronin said he would shift Sam Rice to center and assign veteran Wally Moses to right field pending Dom's return.

Off the cuff: A bow to Menominee for its great success in spring sports. . . The Maroons not only won the district and U. P. track championships, but its golf team composed of Mike Shatusky, Ed Brown, Emil Pontow and Ray Beyer captured the U. P. Class B title and John Gregory and Don Prescott captured the U. P. Class B tennis doubles championship. . . Escanaba was second in golf, was not represented in tennis, and Ray Hinn carded 86 for individual honors in the U. P. golf meet.

Ironwood beat Menominee, 63 to 61, for the U. P. tennis team title. Wakefield won the Class C net title for the third straight time. . . While on the subject of tennis, Northwestern university won the Big Nine . . . Illinois placed second and Michigan third. . . Bill Mikulich, Traunik, Mich., who captains the Wolverine team, went to the finals in doubles in the Big Nine meet held at Evansville, Ind., scene of the 1946 national intercollegiate event.

Johnny Bennett, Negaunee, and Tom Messinger, Houghton, are members of the University of Michigan golf squad which won the Big Nine championship at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday. Michigan scored 1,237 to 1,242 for Ohio State in second place. . . We take our hats off to the St. Ambrose (Ironwood) school publicity staff. . . It got headlines in the Duluth News-Tribune without scoring a point in the U. P. relay here, the only team that went scoreless. . . Bill Lemmer, of St. Ambrose, got a tie for third in the pole vault but scoring in that special event did not count toward the team championship.

Note to Gladstone Rolo promoters: Jimmy and Reuben Johnson, Cloquet, Minn., bidders, were featured in a Sports-men's show at Brainerd, Minn., last weekend. When Manistique and Marquette first met in 1922, Manistique won, 2-1, with McCloskey, a Milwaukee import, besting Bob Zyrd on the mound.

The Ishpeming baseball team in the Rainbow circuit has laid down an ultimatum for its players, to wit: "Make up your mind, boys—either baseball or softball. But not both." In so doing, its management is doing a bit of pioneering in the Upper Peninsula. This dual role which doesn't permit an athlete to give either sport his best (the timing is entirely different) is a source of displeasure to baseball fans in every community in the U. P. where the two sports conflict.

Gloom Hangs Over British Fighting Public-Mills Lost

London, June 3 (P)—Lloyd Marshall, near light heavyweight from Cleveland, O., tonight knocked out 175-pound British champion Freddie Mills and cast the deepest of gloom over British boxing prospects.

Freddie, who went down for the count in 2:58 of the fifth round, was the last of Britain's top-ranking attractions in the heavier classes after the recent defeat of heavyweight Bruce Woodcock by the American, Joe Belski.

It was a non-title bout. Mills weighed 176 1-4 pounds, a pound and a quarter over the light-heavyweight limit. Marshall weighed 166 1-4 pounds. Even in a title fight, Marshall would not have been declared the champion, since the title can only be held by a British subject.

Mills was jolted and almost hopelessly befuddled by one of the first blows delivered by Marshall at the very beginning of the bout scheduled for ten rounds. It was a heavy smash to the temple and Mills confessed that later he couldn't keep count of the rounds.

WHITE SOX PIN SERIES OPENER

Papish Stops Athletics With Three Singles For 3-0 Decision

Chicago, Ill., June 3 (P)—Lefty Frank Papish stopped the Philadelphia Athletics on three scattered singles here tonight as the Chicago White Sox won the series opener, 3-0.

The White Sox bunched four of their seven singles off Joe Coleman for all their runs in the fourth inning.

Papish, gaining his second triumph, did not allow a hit after the fourth inning. Buddy Rosar was the only Philadelphia runner to get as far as second base. He singled with one out in the second and reached the middle station when Hank Majeski was purposely passed. Coleman, the losing pitcher, then fanned for the third out.

Ferris Fain got the A's first hit, an infield scratch, in the first. Barney McCosky opened the fourth with the losers' last hit, but did not advance as Papish handled the next three batters.

Dave Philley started the winning Chicago spurt in the fourth. He posted his second single with one out. Stole second before Murrel Jones was retired. Bob Kennedy was intentionally passed and Cass Michaels' single scored Philley.

Floyd Baker and Mike Tresh followed with singles to score Kennedy and Michaels, rounding out the only scoring inning of the game.

Coleman was replaced by Carl Schieb, who checked Chicago on Baker's second single in the final four innings.

Spending Spree Ends On One-Way Detroit Street; $20,000 Gone

Detroit, June 3 (AP)—A $20,000 international spending spree by a 21-year-old Grand Rapids, Mich., youth ended early today on a one-way street in Detroit, Police Lieut. Charles O'Brien reported.

He said Joseph R. Siegel, whom he identified as a recent parolee from the Michigan reformatory at Ionia, financed months of high living in the United States, the Bahamas, Mexico and British Columbia with worthless checks.

"Those banks * * * sure trust you," he was quoted by Lt. O'Brien.

Siegel was arrested today after a patrolman noticed his car traveling the wrong way on a one-way street. A high-speed chase ended when the vehicle collided with a parked car.

The driver of Siegel's car escaped but officers said Siegel gave them his name. Police said the car was stolen.

Siegel was held as a parole violator and for investigation of passing worthless checks, breaking and entering and car theft.

Lt. O'Brien said Siegel gave the following account of his activities since his release from the reformatory last Dec. 13:

The youth said he read a number of books on banking while in the reformatory and, after his release, laid plans with a companion in Grand Rapids to capitalize on his knowledge.

Siegel hired an unidentified individual to print him 240 blank checks and then set out for Chicago and later Florida.

He told of mailing worthless checks to himself at Paradise before his arrival. When the pair arrived later at the hotel, he added:

"The clerk said, 'Oh, Mr. Siegel, there's a letter here for you.' I took the check out and told the clerk 'I don't want to carry all this around with me. Can I have it on deposit at the hotel?' He said I could."

"I started drawing out the money a couple of days later. I knew it would take a week or 10 days for the check to clear and we moved before the hotel caught on. That's the way we worked it, all over the country."

From Florida, the pair went to the Bahamas, Mexico City, Victoria, B. C., and back to the United States west coast.

His biggest check, for $3,000, financed a round of gambling at Reno, Nev., casinos, O'Brien said Siegel told him.

Some political leaders here predicted that when tempers and tension were calmed, both the Hindu state and the Moslem state might ask to remain in the British Commonwealth on a par with Australia and Canada, and thus, in effect, unity would be achieved.

But the leaders of the two major opposing factions who have battled the British in the past as fiercely as they have fought each other, have indicated they were quite ready for the British to withdraw finally by July, 1948.

RUSSIAN RULE OVER HUNGARY IS CONDEMNED

Italy, Bulgaria and Romania.

The Senate today agreed unanimously to vote at 1 p. m. (CDT) Thursday on the four treaties.

However, Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) then offered a motion to postpone further consideration of the treaties until Jan. 25, 1948. This must be acted on before they can come to a vote. He told the Senate his reason for delay is the "renewed expansion of the Communists as exemplified by their action in Hungary."

Fulbright said that on the basis of what has happened in Hungary, he believes that if the Senate proceeded with ratification of the treaties, "we would create the same situation in Italy" and the Communists would "take over the government there."
